CAVE MAN.

The Early History of Man in England.

Professor Boyd Dawkins, a prominent English geologist, gave recently a lecture in London on "The Man of the Caverns," in the course of which he drew a vivid picture of southern England in prehistoric times. While the river-drift men and the cave men were living in Britain, the hills and valleys in the south of England, he said, presented the same outline as they do now. Could we take our stand in those times on Shooter's hill or on the Essex Heights, and look over the Thames valley in the direction of London, we should see a dense forest of oak, ash and Scotch fir, and the course of the Thames marked by lines of willows and alders. A few thin columns of smoke rising over the tops of the trees would mark the camping places of primeval man. In the forests wild boars, mammoths, and rhinoceroses, wild horses, stags and Irish elk would meet our eyes, and in the summer time

COUNTLESS HERDS OF BISONs, like those now ranging over the plains of northwestern America. In the winter were vast numbers of reindeer, and a few musk sheep, the most Arctic of the mammalia in its habits. In the rivers were otters and beavers, and the explorer would be startled by the snort of the hippopotamus in the reaches of the Thames near Brentford. Beasts of prey also abounded, lions, leopards, hyenas, grizzly bears, wolves and foxes. If we penetrated to one of the camp fires we should have seen the river-drift hunter chipping or using some of those rude flint implements which lie buried in the London gravels along with the remains of the animals which he hunted.

THE RIVER-DRIFT MAN, in the long course of ages, was succeeded by the man of the caverns, like him a hunter, living on the same animals, and more highly equipped for the battle of life. In the course of time the cave man disappeared, the climate and geography of England became almost what it is now, the hunter stage of civilization was superseded by that of the herdsman and the tiller of the ground and the manufacturers of the neolithic age. From the neolithic age down to the present time the progress of man had been unbroken in Britain and in Europe, and the present condition of the European peoples was to be looked upon as the result of a gradual series of changes by which civilization succeeded civilization, and race succeeded race, "the old order yielding place unto the new," because the new order was higher and nobler.

Warning to Policemen.

From the Albany Law Journal. While defendant (in a case in the Tennessee Supreme Court), a constable, was conveying to jail a prisoner convicted of assault and battery and committed to jail, the prisoner attempted to escape. To prevent the escape defendant, after giving the prisoner notice to halt, shot and killed him. Held, that the homicide was not justifiable. In cases where the person slain is arrested or held in custody for a misdemeanor, and he fly or attempt to escape, it will be murder in the office to kill him, although he cannot be otherwise overtaken. Yet under some circumstances it may be only manslaughter, as if it appears that death was not intended. It is considered better to allow one guilty only of a misdemeanor to escape altogether than to take his life.

ANTI-CHINESE LEGISLATION.

In accordance with a provision of the new constitution, the California Legislature has passed a bill making it unlawful for corporations to employ Chinamen. The Governor has signed the bill and it has become a law. It is believed that the law will yet be tested in the courts. Leland Stanford has published a card in which he states that the Central Pacific employs only seven Chinamen in the county of San Francisco, and that the company proposes to abide by the laws of the state.

Bills have been passed in the Assembly making it unlawful to grant any license to aliens ineligible to citizenship, and providing for an annual poll tax of $25 for 1881 and of $50 for each year thereafter.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The San Francisco papers contradict the statement that a reduction has been made in overland passenger rates between New York and San Francisco. The new rates have been telegraphed all over the country, as $35 for third-class and $75 for first-class passengers. Now it is stated that the Eastern roads refused to make sufficient reduction to allow the new rates to go into effect. Yet T. H. Goodman, General Passenger agent of the Central Pacific, has issued a circular announcing that third-class passenger tickets from San Francisco to New York, are now sold at $35. They are good via St. Louis but not by Chicago.

The origin of the word "heeled," which is occasionally heard in Nevada, may be of some interest. The term is borrowed from the phraseology of cock-fighting. The fighting cocks, when pitted against each other, are armed with steel "gaffs," bound on over their natural spurs. Thus equipped, a cock is said to be "heeled." So it has come to be said of a man with a trusty "iron" on his flank, that he is "well heeled."

The race for the Republican nomination for the Presidency seems narrowing down to a close contest between Grant and Blaine. Washburne (Washburne with an e) has gracefully declined to be a candidate, but there is not much significance in a horse's leaving the track when half a mile behind. The fact that Henry Ward Beecher has declared for Grant, gives additional strength to Blaine.

A gentleman brought up to this office this morning a leaden bullet which had broken a pane of glass in his window. The boys around town break hundreds of dollars worth of glass every year with bits of iron, stones and bullets which they throw with great force from slings made of Indian rubber. The practice is dangerous and should be stopped by the authorities.

The New York Sun describes a peculiar velocipede used on railroad tracks in Kansas by telegraph repairers. It has two wheels, like a bicycle, which run on one track, and over which the rider sits, while a smaller wheel, for steadyng rests on the other track. Twenty miles an hour is practicable with it.

The S. F. Call learns that a Mr. Du Bois, of San Rafael, has on the way to California the most improved machinery for artesian well boring, by means of which wells twelve inches in diameter can be sunk to a depth of two thousand feet. The result of a deep well in San Rafael will be watched with considerable interest.

The sculling match between Hawden and Boyd over the Tyne championship course on Saturday for £2,000 was won by Boyd by twelve lengths. Time—Twenty minutes and twenty-two seconds. Boyd allowed Hawden a start of four lengths.

The Call, with its customary caution, headed a late telegram from Virginia City, "Alleged Strike in Ophir." The Call's caution is not misplaced in regard to Comstock mining news.

We have received from Gray, the music publisher of San Francisco, a copy of "Brick-a-Brac" waltz, composed by Joe D. Redding. It is a very pleasing composition.

A Workingmen's party has been organized in Denver, Colorado, and it bids fair to become an important political body.

This opens up a new field for Kearney.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says it is authorized to state that E. B. Washburne is not a candidate for President. The Inter-Ocean's ticket is "Grant and Blaine."

Chicago had a big fire on Saturday night, which destroyed property to the value of $600,000.

Milton S. Latham, of San Francisco, has accepted the presidency of the New York Mining Stock Exchange.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Virginia city is full of idle men.

Redding Republicans prefer Blaine. A Chinaman starved to death in Sacramento the other day.

There are fifteen hundred artesian wells in San Francisco, the Call says.

The influx of Chinese along the line of the Gila causes much complaint in Arizona.

A 1,200-pound black bear was shot on the Centene, Los Angeles, last week.

The C. P. R. R. rolling mill at Sacramento will be 250 feet long by 80 feet wide.

A golden wedding was celebrated in Eureka last week—first occurrence of the kind in that place.

Twenty-two is the average daily number of emigrants leaving Omaha for the West.

Colonel Hardin has shipped over 5,000 head of beef cattle from Winnemucca to San Francisco this winter.

Large numbers of cattle in the southern part of Humboldt county are dying from scarcity of feed and exposure.

Some of the roads running south from Eureka are said to be banked with snow to the depth of 20 feet in places.

A Fort Rupert Indian named John was recently arrested for drunkenness at Victoria, and hung himself in his cell within two hours after being locked up.

The Au Fait club of Carson has subsided, owing to the omission of some of its high-toned members to pay their dues. The paying members tired.

Tom Lawton has been seen again this time in Lander county, Nevada. Thomas shows good judgment in not coming any nearer Sacramento to the Bees.

The artesian well sunk by Mr. Paul for Geo. Parrott at Battle Mountain is down to a depth of 150 feet and flowing a splendid stream of clear water.

When the recent slide occurred in Fraser river, a wave of water went racing up the stream, raising the level of the water as much as ten feet at a farm eight or ten miles above the slide.

The quartz mill, at old Oreana, is to be removed to Trinity district for the purpose of working ore from the Numa mine, the Silver State says. It was built to work in Trinity, was removed to Oreana, and is now going back to Trinity.

A lamb was recently born near Los Angeles, California, with but one eye, which was located in the centre of its forehead, and surmounted by a brow resembling that of a human being. The under jaw was also found to be like that of a man. The monstrosity was one of twins and died immediately after birth, its mate living.

The Upper Musselshell Valley, Montana, extending about 100 miles, is a fine grazing country. About $250,000 worth of cattle and sheep are now grazing upon it. Stock men say that it is the very finest winter range in the Territory. There is plenty of room and to spare for 100,000 more sheep and 50,000 or 100,000 more cattle.

The carcass of a mountain goat has been procured by Colonel Gibson, of Fort Missoula, Montana, for the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. The mountain goat is entirely different from the mountain sheep, and is very rarely found. It has a coat of long, white hair and a regular goat's beard. His horns are small and about seven inches long. It would stand about two feet and a half in height and measures three and a half feet in length.

From news received from Nehalem, Oregon, it is learned that a girl named Mabel Bachus, aged 12 years, perished from hunger a few days ago. Owing to fallen timber from the recent wind and heavy snow storms all communication with the surrounding settlements had been cut off. Bachus, the father of the girl, started for St. Helens, the nearest point. He missed his way on his return, and did not reach his home for six days, and found his daughter dying from hunger.

Bright Newspapers.

From the S. F. Stock Report.

We assert without hesitation and without fear of successful contradiction, that the Nevada newspapers, small as they are, and shrinking under the increased price of paper, caused by the business boom, are the brightest journals published on the American continent. Take a little newspaper published in an obscure mining camp in Nevada, and a metropolitan can squeeze more genuine information and originality out of it than can be ground out of the biggest Eastern dailies. One reason for this is that they are so easily read. Life is too short and time too precious for anybody except a millionaire or a bookworm, to wade through one of the mammoth pamphlets published in the Eastern cities under the designation of newspapers.

A Warm Reception.

The young fellows and girls at Pritchett Institute, Glasgow, Mo., went out at night with horns, pans and bells to serenade the faculty. They made a diabolical noise in front of President Pritchett's house, and he came to a window with a demand to know what they wanted. "A speech, old Baldy," was the response. "I'll give you one," he cried, evidently displeased by the nickname. Then he blazed away with a shotgun, wounding two of the girls. He says that he only meant to scare them, and they charge that he aimed to hit.

Little Leadville Lawlessness.

Let jumping and mice jumping have commenced again at Leadville.

At Leadville last week a free fight in a dance cellar took place. Several persons were injured.

At Leadville, February 8th, Jim Langan of Denver shot Jim Burns. The killing was considered justifiable.

"Hoe, Indian, or Die."

From the Boston Herald

It requires four hundred square miles to support an Indian as a hunter. This is too much land for one man, even for an English Duke or California monopolist. Put the Indian on a fifty acre reservation and tell him to "Hoe, Indian, or die."

Joseph Bailey of Lancaster, Wis., advised his son to break his engagement with Jennie Farrel, and marry her pretty sister. Jennie resentfully set fire to the old man's bar, and has gone to state prison, while her sister has become young Bailey's wife.

JOTTINGS.

Colds are common.
There was nothing before the Justice's court to-day.
Geo. Wedekind will be in Reno again in two weeks to tune pianos.
A letter for Miss Addie Woods is held for postage in the Virginia post-office.
Remember Mrs. Alt's dancing school in Winchel & Cunningham's hall to-night.

The Crown Point, Gilia and Albin assessments were delinquent yesterday, and the South Bodie to-day.

Pinniger & Queen have garden seeds for sale. They have just received a lot of fresh ones. Read their ad.

The funeral of little Frank Harvey, the child who was drowned last Friday, took place at 1 o'clock to-day.

The fair Episcopalians of Europe are attending the performances of the Colville Opera troupe, which are far from being appropriate to Lent.

Meyers & Lachman have clothes pins, brooms and nearly every other useful thing to sell as well as the luxuries which fill up their shelves.

Mr. Fassett took a trial trip on his bicycle yesterday. The wind was blowing pretty hard at the time but he managed to keep ahead of it with ease.

Whitehead Bros. are going to plant some Egyptian corn to see if it will grow without irrigation. They think it will do well and become a staple.

Parnell, the Irish agitator, will be in Reno on his way to Virginia about April 1st. He will be invited to speak here by the Irishmen of Washoe county.

It is a sad thing to see three young men start for church and then unanimously decide to put the six bits that were intended for the contribution box into billiards.

Davidson shows a great deal of enterprise in the management of his business. He guarantees to do first-class work on watches and jewelry. He always has a large stock of jewelry, silver ware, etc. on hand.

Hermon Wright, an old and reliable citizen of Reno, who has been in the gardening and nursery business here for the last ten years, now offers seeds, shrubbery and garden plants of his own raising for sale. Read his advertisement.

The Pyramid Lake Trouble.

Indian Agent Spencer, of Pyramid lake reservation, has decided not to take any action, at least for the present, against the Whiteheads, Mullins and Dr. Woods, being pretty well convinced that they have a valid claim to the land. The Agent is in correspondence with the authorities in Washoe, in regard to the claims of the white settlers. It is possible of them will be disturbed.

A Wind Storm.

Reno was yesterday visited by a violent wind, filling the air with dust and driving everybody indoors. A little snow had fallen on Saturday night, but the wind so bare. The storm lasted all day in the mountains. About five inches of snow such heavy drifts that several trains were delayed an hour.

Not a soul.

L. H. Morse, treasurer of the Bullion mine of Paradise, was in town last evening. He says there is no truth in the reported sale of the mine to New York parties. A large amount of stock is locked up in Winnemucca waiting their order, but no money has been paid on it. General R. M. Clarke owns one-fifth of the mine.

A Card.

I desire to return my sincere thanks to the citizens of Reno for their kind assistance in the search for the body of our little Frankie, and to Mr. Stone and Mrs. T. E. Haydon particularly for their valuable aid.

A FINE EDIFICE

Detailed Description of the New Catholic Church Now Going up In Reno.

The Catholic church now building, is situated on the corner of Sixth and Lake streets.

The dimensions of the foundation are 42 feet 6 inches by 72 feet 6 inches. The tower placed on the center of front, 15x15. The foundation walls are sunk below the grade line two feet, and are two feet thick, of solid stone masonry. The foundation walls above the grade are of brick, three feet high, with numerous projections to receive buttresses. The super-structure is balloon frame, both substantial and ornamental.

The sills are 6x8, the floor joists 3x12, the studding 6x6 and 3x6, the roof self-supporting trusses. The whole exterior is boarded diagonally, and finished in redwood. The cornices are geometrical figures, used in tracery and panels. The roof is shingled with fancy cut shingles, painted to imitate slate, as iron cresting extending the length of the ridge. The rear gable is surmounted with a cross. The windows are 3x11, with gothic heads, massive caps and sills. The height of the tower on front will be about 100 feet from grade to tip of cross. It will be ornamented in the same style as the main building.

The main entrance is in front of the tower. The doors to the main entrance are gothic, with geometrical figures used in panels, also gothic cap over doors, supported by columns. The second story of tower will have a mulion gothic window on each side to give light to the choir. The belfry windows will be the same as the choir windows, with the exception of slat ventilators. The double buttresses on the corner of the building are surmounted with ornamental pinnacles.

The interior of the church is plastered, with hard finish, ceiling corniced and paneled, a large wheel window lighting up the arch in the rear of the altar. The entire walls are wainscoted six feet high. The interior is divided into nave, sanctuary and vestibule, with open staircase extending from vestibule to choir. The space in the nave is divided into three rows of seats and two aisles. The edifice is a type of English gothic church architecture, and will be, when completed, a great ornament to the town. Its cost will be in the neighborhood of $6,000. The construction of such a fine building is highly creditable to the Catholic congregation of Reno. As soon as the needed lumber is received from Truckee, work will be recommenced, and will be continued until the completion of the church. The foregoing description is made up from the plan and specifications.

A Rousing House.

The Reform Club meeting in the Nevada Theatre on Saturday evening was the largest that society has ever had. The theatre was completely filled. Not a vacant chair could be found anywhere in the house, and much of the standing room was occupied.

The babies were there in strong force. (What on earth can induce a woman to take a baby into a crowded hall!) One crying baby can make a thousand people swear long mental oaths. The subject of R. L. Fulton's address was "Law and Politics," a discourse on various popular fallacies in relation to the functions and the power of governments, and on the mistakes of law-makers. The musical portion of the entertainment was very pleasing, and several ladies gave readings with taste and expression.

At the close of the entertainment several well-known individuals went forward, and signed the pledge amid a burst of applause.

A Gain of 25 Per Cent.

The great annual Clearance Sale of Dry Goods, Carpets, Cloaks, Dolmans, Shoes and Fancy Goods, will continue until March 1st, 1880. All goods will be disposed of regardless of cost or value, to make room for the immense stock of Spring goods, now being purchased in the New York market. My goods are choice and fresh and no such bargains have ever been offered on the Coast. Come on and take a hand in the rush, you could not invest your money to any better advantage.
